

If you are frustrated with poor performance or unreliability of your SQL Server, or if your applications don't respond like they did in the past, or if you wonder if your configuration is optimized or your databases are setup correctly, then JSWco can help! Our Microsoft Certified Master can review and assess your SQL Server environment and provide a set of recommendations based on the latest best practices to improve operations, provide the sought-after results, and lower your risk.

DESCRIPTION

The check-up starts with an in-depth interview to talk through of the major pain points. Typical questions or areas for inquiry would include security, performance, disaster recovery, data governance, general setup and configurations, permissions, expansion plans, etc. For reporting, the general SSRS environment can be reviewed, along with individual report needs. The JSWco will access the SQL Server and Reporting, via a remote connection, to examine the servers, assess the setup and operations, test processes, and run diagnostics.

DELIVERABLES

A Findings and Recommendation document will be compiled based on the interview, observations, and system tests. This document will suggest changes that should be made, will indicate their priority or sense of urgency, and will outline a remediation and enhancement plan for consideration. If needed and appropriate, an Envision Statement document will be prepared to outline any strategic opportunities that JSWco has identified that could be implemented to add efficiency and value or to reduce long-term, systemic risk.

DETAILS

The free check-up will be completed in one-day. Extended services can be requested. The assessment will be conducted remotely and appropriate access and permissions will need to be assigned. It is advised that a subject matter expert be available for an initial discussion, as well as during the assessment. Recommendations will be included in the check-up but will not be implemented. JSWco would be pleased to assist with these as part of a subsequent engagement.

Our SQL Server assessment uncovered several items that we addressed. JSWco's expertise was clearly evident .
